How do I pay for the Allied Temporary Health Plan?

The Allied Temporary Health Plan can be paid for by a single lump payment (saving 20%) or billed monthly. The initial payment may be made by check or credit card.

Additional payments may be made by check, automatic withdrawal from checking account or credit card.

The Allied Temporary Health Plan prepay option provides a 20% discount off the monthly billing rate. To qualify, select a coverage period of one to six months and pre-pay the entire amount with the application. Please note that any premium paid under the prepay plan discount is nonrefundable.

IMPORTANT NOTE: No employer or business involvement is allowed on the Allied Temporary Health Plan. Company or business checks will not be accepted. Payment must be made using a personal check or credit card.

When is coverage effective and for how long?

Coverage is effective for a minimum of one month up to a maximum of six months. There is no need to choose length of coverage when you apply unless applying for the discounted prepay plan. You may request a specific effective date (any day of the month) as long as the application and premium are received by Allied before the requested effective date. Coverage cannot be effective earlier than the day after the post office postmark on the envelope received by Allied or more than 30 days after the application signature date. Envelopes received with no postmark or with only a business meter stamp can be made effective no earlier than the date of receipt by Allied. Incomplete applications or incorrect initial payment could delay the effective date. Premium for additional months will be due on the first day of each month.

Note: When immediate effective dates are required, online application will allow you to select and receive effective dates as early as the next day.

Can coverage be rewritten?

The Allied Temporary Health Plan is a TEMPORARY plan. It is not renewable and not meant to provide long periods of coverage. However, coverage may be rewritten for new and separate coverage periods, not to exceed three (3) coverage periods, as long as you meet the eligibility criteria described here and in the application. There is NO CONTINUOUS COVERAGE if the plan is rewritten. This means that a new application must be submitted, a new effective date is given, a new pre-existing condition period begins and a new deductible and out-of-pocket expense must be met. Any condition which may have occurred under a prior coverage period will be treated as a pre-existing condition under the rewritten coverage. Allied reserves the right to review previously submitted claims and decline coverage on anyone applying for a new coverage period. Rewrites may not be available in all states.
